Business As Usual, Willard's

Gasoline leaking from a punctured gas tank on a car triggered an explosion that blew out a portion of the concrete block wall at the rear of the Willard Equipment Ltd. farm machinery repair shop at about 9:30 Tuesday evening of this week. The resulting fire totally destroyed the car and scorched part of the interior of the big repair shop but business was being carried on almost as usual Wednesday morning.

An employee of the company, Allan Love, was repairing his car and had it on the hydraulic hoist. When he lowered the hoist a block rolled loose and when the car reached floor level the block punctured the gas tank, releasing a flood of gasoline on the floor. Although Allan quickly turned off the power, the fumes rose rapidly and an explosion was set off when they reached the overhead space heater in the shop. Allan opened the big main door of the shop, receiving burns to his hands while doing so, and drove out a large tractor. By this time help had arrived and another car in the shop was also saved. Allan's own car, a 1959 Ford, was totally destroyed.

The Vulcan fire department was quickly at the scene of the explosion and flames in the smoke-filled repair shop were soon extinguished. The parts department and offices were untouched. Town police, aided by the RCMP, blocked off the street until the fire trucks had finished their job.

Insurance underwriters had not yet made an estimate of the damage as the Advocate went to press Wednesday morning.

If you never put off until tomorrow what you can do today, you'll never take a vacation.

On hand at the official opening of the Blunt's Nursing Home April 2 was Mayor Gerry Ness who cut the ribbon in a brief ceremony. Over 300 visitors toured the premises and enjoyed lunch during the afternoon.

The Blunt's Nursing Home comes under jurisdiction of the Vulcan-Foothills Nursing Home Board whose members are pictured above as they gathered during opening ceremonies April 2. In the

200 Church Young People Attend Spring Conference

The Young People's Group of the Vulcan Church of Christ was host to the spring conference of the Prairie Young People's Association. Under the very capable Leadership of Miss Jackie Deans and Doug Smith, the Vulcan group hosted 200 young people and the adult sponsors. The delegates came from almost all points of the compass: Grande Prairie, Havre-Montana, Big River-Sask., and many points in between.

The theme of the Conference was "He Lives", that is Christ Jesus. Miss Deans and her willing helpers adopted this theme into

Good Deeds W.I. Plans 'Cancer Tea'

The Good Deeds Women's Institute met at the farm home of Mrs. Clarence Brown and was attended by nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Kissie Didier of Nanton.

In the absence of the president, the chair was taken by Mrs. George Dingwall. Mrs. Leon Norbert read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. Clarence Brown gave the treasurer's report. The only correspondence was an Easter card from Mrs. Morley, a former member. Mrs. Robina Hutton expressed her thanks for the card she had received while in the local hospital recently.

The annual cancer tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Norman (Continued On Page 6)

Dam Visitors Identified As Salamanders

Before Christmas Bill Christensen of Vulcan found thousands of rather horrid looking creatures swimming in his dam east of Kirkcaldy and caused quite a stir at the Advocate and other places where he went with a pail full of them seeking their identity.

Mrs. Jean McCall of County Central High School teaching staff tagged them as some form of salamander and welcomed them to her biology class for further experimentation.

True to her word Mrs. McCall sent the Advocate a progress report on this subject some time ago which follows.

"This is to report to you that the salamanders donated to the school in December were the Larvae of the true salamanders commonly found in this area. Just prior to Christmas vacation week, two had already lost their larval appearance: As they developed, their heads became more compact; gills were resorbed (gradually shrinking) as lungs developed; tails no longer were vertical "fins", but narrowed to regular narrow tails as in adult salamanders; and the bodies were somewhat smaller than they had been as larvae. Had these salamanders been tiger salamanders, they would have required the administering of beef thyroid extract. They did not, but simply ate raw meat and developed rapidly. Unfortunately they succumbed to over-heating during vacation week, but we did observe two of them to adulthood, and we have preserved a larval and an adult specimen."

The conference awards a trophy to the group that best portrays the theme in a 15 to 20 minute enacted devotional. The 11 delegates from Big River, Sask. won this much prized trophy. There is also a trophy for the most "People Miles" that are travelled, and this was won by the Grande Prairie delegation of 15 members. They amassed approximately 8000 miles, to win over Big River by a margin of approximately 600 miles.

The Candle Light Circle of the Vulcan Church served the conference their missions banquet, with a delicious meal of Kentucky fried chicken, and two pieces of pie if desired. At this banquet, an offering was taken to support a missionary chosen by the delegates. The conference strives to give an amount equal to a dollar per person who sits down to the banquet. The Cass family in Brazil was adopted at this session.

The conference administration, in announcing Havre, Mont. as the fall meeting site, lavished praise upon the citizens of Vulcan and area for the use of their buildings, homes, and facilities.

and so far 166 folks from afar have replied affirmatively to over 300 invitations sent out earlier this spring. What's more, one question that will never bother the committee and which brought on a glorious crisis at Vulcan's 50th is "What do we do if it rains?" "If the rain falls," says farmer-town resident-mayor Pete Stokes, "We just move the whole thing inside and keep right on going." This is an envious statement from the committee chairman but a true one. The Lomond Community Centre is made up of a two-sheet curling rink, full sized skating arena with seating on both sides, dressing rooms, banquet room, and kitchen on the main floor, and the auditorium is above, up one flight of steps. It's true that if, at the present moment, it rained for four days and then the parade were held, half the Vulcan County band might disappear in a piece of main street made precarious by recent underground sewer leaks. However this is being repaired, off-streets are being gravelled and cared for properly through purchase of a heavy grader and when the town and county decide who is responsible for graveling the through-town main street they'll be ready for customers come July. On the anniversary committee are Pete Stokes, chairman, May Chapman, secretary, Leonard Chase, Henry Huff, Mildred Honess, Hirst Goldthorpe, Earl Holland, Florence Sokvitne, Ivy Goldthorpe, Stan Henrickson, Merl Sande, Vera Stokes, Audrey Lucas, Violet Huff, Florence Hart, Ingvald Magnuson, Gordon Lucas, Art Lindstedt, and Marie Steeves.

An ambitious program for the three days is being lined up with two days devoted to barbecues, dancing, sports events and other entertainment while Sunday is reserved for an inter-denominational church service followed by a fellowship tea.

Friday's agenda is not yet complete but it is hoped to stage a barbecue during the afternoon with big city in-person professional wrestling featured in the evening along with a modern dance.

At 1 p.m. Saturday another round of festivities begins with a parade with music by the Vulcan County Band and including local, and it is hoped, many out-of-town floats and other entries. Immediately following is a horseshoe tournament and an afternoon of sports events and bingo. Lomond's first citizens are honored at the Pioneer Supper at 6 p.m. and an old timers' dance will conclude the evening.

Perhaps the most lasting contribution to this historic observation for the community is the preparation of a book in which the history of the Lomond district, which includes Armada, Bow City, Wheat Centre, Travers and Badger Lake will appear in picture and story form. One thousand have been ordered and delivery is expected before the celebration.

Down 8 Mills . . .

County Tax Rate For '66 Is Reduced To 54 Mills

The 1966 tax rate for the County of Vulcan No. 2 will be 54 mills, a decrease of eight mills from last year's rate of 62. The new mill rate is made up as shown below and the 1965 rate is shown for comparison:

	1966	1965
Municipal	16	17
Extra School	6	8
School	28	32
Hospital	4	5
	54	62

(Champion Recreation Area: 1 mill additional levy).

The reduction in mill rate is due to the higher assessment resulting from the recently completed general assessment. The total assessment in the County shows an increase of just over 12 per cent and the mill rate shows a corresponding decrease of 13 per cent.

New assessment is $17,249,075, which is within $250,000 of the equalized assessment of $17,649,975. The new equalized assessment is about $1,700,000 less than it was last year. The School Foundation Program tax rate is 26 mills on the equalized assessment and the Hospital Benefits tax rate is four mills, also on the equalized assessment, actual tax reduction amounting to about $52,000 or three mills.

The reduction in mill rate will result in lower taxes for those ratepayers whose assessments remained about the same or only slightly higher. In some cases assessments were even lowered and many showed only a slight increase of possibly about 10 per cent.

Under the new assessment a large number of parcels of land were increased 20 per cent and as much as 50 per cent or even higher. This is due to a different classification than formerly. Owners of these lands will find

Fire Damages Locker Plant At Carmangay

(By Carmangay Correspondent)

Fire of unknown origin extensively damaged the interior of the Carmangay Locker Plant on Tuesday of last week. Owner of the building is John Letal.

The Carmangay fire department and fire trucks from Vulcan, Barons and Champion responded to the call and managed to confine the flames to a rear room of the building and the attic but stock and equipment suffered extensive water and smoke damage.

County Band Has Busy Summer Schedule Planned

A small but appreciative crowd attended the concert of the Vulcan County Band held at the Lomond Community Centre Wednesday, April 13.

Sponsored by the Lomond Lions Club the evening was a departure from the rigid programming of marches and concert selections which is often anticipated and listeners were surprised to hear a blend of serious music, humor and soloists during the performance.

Such marches as S.I.B.A. and Hausstrasser, were heard as were well known excerpts from My Fair Lady, Beguine Festival, Moon River and other numbers. Variety was found in a solo by band president Harry Washburn, Clarinet On The Town and another one on violin, Londonderry Air, by Jack Thurber. Harry's Hungry Five, a comic session by a group of bandmen was another feature of the program as was the musical story of The Three Bears.

Before leaving for home the band was treated to lunch and a

4-H Horse Club Members Tour Klassen Factory

Despite the cold biting wind, 35 members of the Vulcan 4-H Horse Club and their families made a tour inspecting the youngsters' projects on Saturday, April 16.

Each member showed his or her horse as Bob Cutler, senior leader, constructively criticized and explained what is expected for Achievement Day. This was regarded as a most valuable experience.

The group had lunch at the airport and were shown through the Klassen Homes factory where large mobile homes are presently being constructed. Mr. Wallace explained each stage, demonstrating many of the specialized pieces of machinery. It was most informative as well as interesting.

After the tour, the group met at Daniell's Tire Shop for a special meeting of the entertainment committee in preparation for the rally to be held in Vulcan on Friday.

Hear Talk On Cardiac Cases

The regular meeting of the Vulcan Chapter AARN was held on April 6, in the basement lounge of the hospital with 19 members present.

After a short business meeting led by President Shirley Houlton, Dr. M. E. Kozlowski gave a very interesting talk on Cardiac Emergencies and the treatment of cardiac cases. This was most interesting and informative.

The May meeting will be held as usual in the Anglican Church basement the first Wednesday of the month.

3-Day Anniversary Program Planned

(By Peter Pickersgill)
Lomond's present-day population is about 244 persons and for the next three months most of them will become involved in the planning that goes into this community's 50th Anniversary celebration July 8, 9 and 10. Although the main committee is made up of 19 volunteers, others will give service indirectly through the Lions club and through many women's organizations which all have their part to play in this event.

The problems facing the committee at this stage of preparation are reminiscent of Vulcan's 50th in 1963. Where are we going to put everybody? How will we feed them all and where do we find enough chairs and tables? We can't have this main event . . . what are we going to replace it with?

Such are the headaches facing the Lomond group but despite being fewer in numbers and having less resources to draw from, their program is almost complete

is only half the story...

here's the other half.

The GMC pickup's box floor is made of preservative-treated wood. It can't rust; won't "drum." Stays like new longer!

Standard two-stage coil rear suspension automatically adjusts springs to load demand. Optional heavy duty leaf springs shown here.

Double roof-panels with sandwiched insulation help keep driver warm in winter, cool in summer and cut down on noise in cab.

Standard cab comfort and convenience features include windshield washers, two-speed electric wipers, and comfortable, deep-padded seats with two seat belts.

Printed circuit for instruments eliminates spaghetti-like tangle of wires, ends shorting, makes circuit-tracing easy.

A sturdy three-speed manual transmission is standard. Or choose an extra-cost heavy duty three-speed, four-speed, or automatic transmission (on most models).

Standard GMC pickup engine is an eager 250 cu. in. six with 155 hp. More powerful engines are available, including a 170-hp six, a 175-hp V8 and a 220-hp V8.

Independent coil-spring front suspension makes GMC ride almost like a car. The load is better cushioned and handling is easy at any speed. GMC pickups are great with camper backs.

WESTERN CANADIAN PIONEER MUSEUM

1911 Franklin

History of pioneer transportation captured in this unique collection

An enterprising father and son team, Ted and Stan Reynolds, have created one of the most unusual museums in our province. Here are authentic stage coaches and old time vehicles, such as the open buggies that provided prairie transportation in the days when "horse power" meant just that. Four hundred steam and internal combustion engines, stationary and traction models in broadly varying design, are prominent in the collection. You'll see pioneer cars dating way back to 1899 including the 1904 Cadillac and Olds 1 cylinder runabouts, 1908 Baker and 1911 Hupp Yeats electric cars, 1911 Franklin air cooled, 1916 V-twelve cylinder National, Cord front wheel drive and the Brooks steam car. There's even a Gypsy Moth biplane, a horse drawn hearse, and a 1912 aerial ladder fire truck. The Western Canadian Pioneer Museum in Wetaskiwin is more than a historical storehouse. It represents a tremendous outlay of interest, time and effort by two imaginative Albertans, in creating a permanent tribute to the pioneer history of our Alberta.

Next time you're travelling highway No. 2, stop and visit the Western Canadian Pioneer Museum at Wetaskiwin. It's open every day from May 1 to October 1.

SUMMER FALLOW FOLLY

Summer fallowing is an unnecessary and wasteful habit contends U. J. Pittman of the Lethbridge Research Station. It isn't necessary on the black soil, and years of crop records indicate it is seldom necessary on the dark brown soils. There is lots of good dark brown soil in this county and it is certainly feasible to crop a portion of this land.

Ninety-seven crop years of data from Lethbridge have shown that if there are 27 inches of moist soil under the stubble at seeding time, there is a better than 50-50 chance of obtaining at least 13.5 bushels per acre on that land if it is re-cropped.

A plot was established at the Lethbridge Research Station in 1954 on which a crop is seeded every year there is 27 inches of moist soil; otherwise the plot is fallowed. Only once since then has the plot been summer fallowed. One year there was a crop failure. The average yield of the plot for all years is 16.1 bushels per acre. A Fallow-wheat rotation at the same spot has averaged 13 bushels per acre of rotation.

Most people say they summer fallow for greater yields. Results indicate that while yields of wheat on fallow are usually higher than those on stubble land, the average yield per acre of rotation is not as high.

Moisture conservation is another reason given for summer fallow-

ing. Research on the prairies has shown that about 70 per cent of the moisture conserved during the fallow period is saved in the August to April period immediately following harvest of the last crop. Unless certain perennial weeds necessitate fallow, it becomes nothing more than an unnecessary workout for the farmer and an exercise period for his machinery.

While it is recognized that plant foods in the soil become more available to the plant with the passage of time, summer fallowing is a costly way of releasing these nutrients to a growing crop. This can usually be done more economically by adding commercial fertilizer.

There are many arguments in favor of reducing fallow. Eliminate fallow and you almost eliminate soil drifting. This spring there have been more than a few fields which have been well "dusted" to say the least. It reduces the expense, time and labor required for the fallow operation. Land costs too much today, is the common cry, so why leave it idle when it can grow a crop.

Accurate records on yields and costs of production, and the amount of moisture in the soil are the determining factors. Summer fallow cannot be eliminated completely, but it can certainly be reduced in most areas. Very seldom will everything be in crop. It may mean a greater use of straw choppers and a change in tillage practices, but the extra profits to be made offset the problems presented by seeding stubble land. Like any practice I think we should go easy until personal experience is gained in individual farm situations. It's just like fertilizer — one recommendation won't fit every farm.

Travers-Lomond Couple Exchange Vows

The Bethany Lutheran Church at Lomond was the scene of a very lovely candle-light wedding on Saturday, Jan. 22 at 5:00 p.m. when Marlene Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hones, was united in marriage with William George Thurlow, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Thurlow of Travers. Pastor Wayne Berg officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. Berg was the organist.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father wearing a traditional floor length gown of norganza over peau-satin featuring a sheath skirt with a full overskirt of sheer norganza fastened on both sides. The front of the skirt was enhanced by hand clipped motifs of French lace with seed pearls to match the trim of the scoop neckline and featured lily point sleeves. A flowered tiara of Satin roses and pearls topped a waist length four tiered veil trimmed with lace motifs and seed pearls to match the gown. The bride carried a white satin bible from which cascaded a bouquet of red roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Wendy Elliott of Edmonton, while her bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Barbara Hones of Lomond and her cousin, Miss Beverly Howell of Calgary. They wore identical street length gowns of red velvet with matching white head pieces, gloves and shoes. They carried a cascade of white carnations sprinkled with red velvet leaves.

Miss Donna Jean Thurlow, sister of the groom, was flower girl and wore a red velvet dress with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of tiny white roses. Ring bearer was Wesley Hones, brother of the bride, who carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Richard Thurlow of Calgary, brother of the groom, acted as best man and guests were ushered to the pews by Dale Dietrich of Claresholm and Bill Stannard of Rockcliffe, Ottawa, Ont.

Soloist was Mrs. Eileen Thurlow of Calgary who sang the "Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride's mother chose a three piece peacock blue knit suit with tan accessories and a corsage of pink carnations while the groom's mother wore a two-piece light blue brocade suit with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The wedding reception for 120 guests was held in the Lomond Community Centre dining room, which was decorated with red and white streamers and bells. The head table was centered with the wedding cake beautifully decorated by Mrs. Reginald Evans of High River. Miss Shirley Thurlow was in charge of the guest book. Earl Helland, Master of Ceremonies presented a delightful program. Richard Thurlow proposed a toast to his brother and new sister-in-law. Toast to the bride was proposed by Walter Domolewski and responded to by the groom. Bill Standard proposed the toast to the bridesmaids and Miss Wendy Elliott responded.

Musical selections were rendered by Miss Terry Teasdale, Mrs. Loretta Gerhan, Mrs. Sherry Fernley and Mrs. Peggy Lay. Debra and Marleen Thurlow sang a medley ending with The Best To You, while their mother accompanied them on the piano.

For going away the bride chose a coral wool suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The couple will reside in Lomond.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Champion, Vulcan, High River, Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Welling, Blairmore, Parson, B.C. and Rockcliffe, Ontario.
